

Hello Australia

mRNA medicines — a public health game changer

Join us and learn more about the evolving role of mRNA vaccines and therapeutics and the future of medicine.

Whilst mRNA therapies have been in development for some time, the COVID-19 global pandemic saw these launched into the spotlight. The rapid pace of advancements in mRNA medicines has created an exciting buzz for discussion, which will be explored by Dr Paul Burton and a panel of local guest speakers. Please join us for a dinner meeting as part of the Communicable Diseases & Immunisation Conference 2022 (CDIC).
